

Top Gear takes on Burma

Top Gear Burma Special premieres this Sunday March 16 at 8:30pm on BBC Knowledge, first on Foxtel

The 21st series of the world's favourite car show caps off with an all-new two part special premiering this Sunday on BBC Knowledge. This time around Jeremy Clarkson, Richard Hammond and James May are told to build a bridge over the River Kwai in Thailand. In order to do that, however, they must first drive across a country that has been largely closed to Westerners for over 40 years: Burma. Furthermore, they must make this trip in three lorries, each bought sight unseen from the internet for a limited budget and, unsurprisingly, not quite as the trio might have hoped or expected. What follows is an epic journey of beautiful scenery, regular adversity, ongoing malfunction and the constant bickering of three badly dressed buffoons.

About BBC Worldwide Australia & New Zealand

Australia & New Zealand (ANZ) is a priority territory for BBC Worldwide, focusing on growth across all its core business areas. Based in Macquarie Park, Sydney, BBC Worldwide ANZ wholly owns five channels: UKTV, BBC Knowledge and CBeebies in Australia; UKTV and BBC Knowledge in New Zealand; and is responsible for the distribution and promotion of BBC World News which transmits in both countries. In August 2014 it will launch a new premium BBC channel showcasing premiere drama and comedy on the Foxtel platform in Australia. BBC Worldwide ANZ distributes great British content from the BBC and other producers to all free-to-air and most subscription channels in Australia and New Zealand. It works with partners to bring BBC Worldwide DVDs, magazines, digital apps, innovative products and live events to the local market, as well as offering advertising opportunities for the BBC's world renowned bbc.com news site. Australia is the most successful territory for the current global BBC iPlayer trial.
